

REMARKS

This amendment is submitted pursuant to 37 C.F.R. § 1.312 in order to correct errors found in allowed claims 21 and 14.

Claim 21 is amended to recite "request for ~~additional~~ information that is identified by the Uniform Resource Identifier (URI). In other words, the amendment deletes the word "additional."

The amendment is needed to correct an error due to oversight. When previously amending the claims, the applicants deleted the word "additional" from claim 1 but omitted to the same with respect to claim 21. The omission was inadvertent.

Claim 21 requires no additional search or examination because it is similar to claim 1. Claims 21 and 1 are both directed to different sides of a system. Claim 21 is directed to a client side of the system, whereas claim 1 is directed more to the server side.

Moreover, no additional search is necessary because the amendment does not significantly change the scope of claim 21. Rather, the amendment only makes the claim clearer. The specification uses the adjective "additional" in "request for additional information" to indicate that the information identified by the URI is additional to the push content.

At the same time, however, the phrase of "request for additional information identified by the URI" may also be interpreted as meaning that the URI identifies two types of information — one primary and one additional. Deleting the word "additional" removes this ambiguity and makes the claim clearer.

Claim 21, as amended, is patentable for the same reasons for which claim 1 was found to be patentable. As noted above, claim 1 does not have the word "additional" in the limitation "request for information identified..." The lack of the word "additional" did not prevent it from being allowed.

The amendment was not presented earlier because the applicants discovered the error after the notice of allowance had been mailed.

In view of the foregoing, the applicants respectfully request that the amendment to claim 21 be entered.

For the same reasons as for claim 21, the applicants request that dependent claim 14 also be amended to recite "request for ~~additional~~ information that is identified by the uniform resource identifier (URI)." Claim 14 depends on allowed claim 1. No changes to claim 1 are introduced by this amendment.

Respectfully,
Chou et al.
